

How did you score?

90 points or above: You are a friend of the earth! Keep it up!

80-89 points: You are a concerned citizen and are making a solid effort to minimize your contribution to pollution. Why not become more active outside your home?

70-79 points: You are taking advantage of the basic services around you but haven't found an opportunity to improve upon your awareness. Why not look around your community and see where they need help too?

Below 69 points: Are you certain you are doing everything you can? Why not rethink your place in the environment and do a little more to help reduce your contribution to pollution. Every little bit helps! For ideas, re-read the statements in the evaluation form and try them out at home or work!
